German Board Will Speed To U. S. To Probe Disaster

By The Associated Press

BERLIN May 7—A shocked and tearful German nation summoned an official commission today for a quick trip of investigation overseas to fix the cause of the tragic Hindenburg disaster yet rallied amid the deepest mourning to follow the same path of aerial trailmaking

The Nazi air ministry called an early afternoon conference of officials of the Zeppelin Construction Co., the Zeppelin Airlines, and the German Institute of Aeronautical Research to decide the personnel of the commission that will speed by plane and ocean liner to Lakehurst.

The German people, from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Dr Hugo Eckener down to the poorest workman in the stunned and tearful knots that gathered in the streets, were plunged into profound grief.

Dr. Eckener, tired and haggard, arrived by airplane from Vienna and went immediately to the air ministry

The veteran [illegible] dicated the Graf Zeppelin, now a scheduled trans-Atlantic air liner to South America, may not fly again until she can be filled with non inflammable helium

But when he was asked, "does this mean future trips of the Graf must wait until helium can be obtained?" Dr. Eckener answered

"Yes but I cannot say anything about our future schedule until I have talked with the air ministry and our company officials"

Offices of the Zeppelin Co said it was too early to say certainly what effect the disaster will have on future flights of the Graf Zeppelin, due at Frankfort late Saturday on a crossing from South America.

In the meantime, he said, there is no change in the schedule, which calls for the Graf to leave Frankfort again May [illegible]

GOODYEAR OFFERS AID AT LAKEHURST

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O, May 7—The Goodyear Zeppelin Corp, refusing comment on what effect the crash of the Hindenburg might have on the future of the lighter-than-air craft industry in the United States, today concentrated on efforts to be of whatever aid possible in the tragic situation at Lakehurst.

Dr Karl Arnstein, its vice president and chief engineer, flew to Lakehurst this morning, following on the heels of Lieut. Commander W. A Zimmerman, navy aircraft inspector in Akron, who was flown to the scene of the crash last night.

Despite their official silence, figures in the lighter-than-air industry were known to realize that the flaming wreck of the Hindenburg may well have sealed the doom, at least temporarily, of lighter-than-air craft both as commercial passenger carriers and as military or naval weapons.

30 DEAD OR MISSING IN BLAST LINKED TO VERY EXPLOSIVE GAS

Eckener Claims Sabotage Unlikely; Believes Spark or Lightning May Have Hit Released Hydrogen.

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST N J May 7— The flaming destruction of the once seemingly impregnable dirigible Hindenburg brought swift action today by the American and German governments to determine the cause of the disaster

Thirty persons were known dead or missing

Of the 97 passengers and members of the crew aboard when the greatest of all airships exploded burst into flames and crashed to earth last night—just as it was lowering to the mooring mast and only 200 feet above the ground—67 persons survived One of those killed was a spectator burned to death in the fiery debris

The ruins of the luxurious liner of the skies lay crumpled on the landing field at the naval air station—a junk heap of ghastly framework

Cause of Crash a Mystery

On the lips of every one was the question—what caused the crash Twenty times had the Hindenburg crossed the North Atlantic safely

As Washington officials and Dr Hans Luther the German ambassador opened inquiries three possible causes—all however relating to the highly inflammable hydrogen used in the German Zeppelins—were outlined by the ship's designer and pilot on numerous voyages, Dr Hugo Eckener

"I should say that if this disaster was caused by sabotage" said Dr Eckener, who was in Austria on a speaking trip "only the firing of a burning ... the ... could have accomplished it But that is ... highly unlikely

From this distance and on the basis of ... meager information Dr Eckener ... three ... possibilities

1 When the ship is lowered ... hydrogen usually is released This free hydrogen in the air might have been sufficiently concentrated to be ignited by lightning or a spark

2 When landing the water ballast is released from the tanks A stream of water connecting with the earth might have served as an electrical conduct ... a spark from the ground

3 Someone aboard may have made a fire a spark possibly from a cigarette lighter I regard this also as unlikely for the ... of passengers and crew is watched carefully

Smoking Restricted Aboard

Smoking on the Hindenburg was allowed only in a special ... compartment

Commander Charles E Rosendahl commandant of the naval station said the fire originated ... near the stern of the ship at ... p m (E S T)

In his report to the navy department the commandant a veteran lighter than air craft ... ...

About 4 minutes after the ropes had been dropped a fire appeared in the after part of the ship and worked progressively forward The ship settled to the ground tail first and was practically completely ablaze for her entire length by the time the ground was reached

Fred D Fagg director of the federal bureau of air commerce was on hand preparing for the government's inquiry Secretary of Commerce Daniel C Roper appointed a board of inquiry to hold public hearings The secretary said they would probably begin during the afternoon and not later than tomorrow morning.

A naval inquiry was regarded as a certainty, since the dirigible crashed on a naval reservation.

Difficult to Identify Dead

The identification of dead was difficult. The ship's manifest was destroyed in the holocaust. Zeppelin officials were in frequent communication with Germany, checking last minute changes in the passenger lists Reservations had been made for 39 persons, but company officials said only 36 were aboard, and 61 members of the crew

All bodies recovered from the twisted, fire-warped skeleton were brought to an improvised morgue in the hangar which was closely guarded All but officials of the line and navy officers were barred entrance.

The entire naval reservation was barred to everyone except officials and newspapermen.

United States troops guarded the ash-strewn ruins of the airship—the first of the zeppelins to carry a commercial passenger to death

Copeland Mentions Sabotage

With Dr. Eckener saying sabotage could not be entirely eliminated as a possible cause, Sen. Copeland chairman of the committee on commerce said one of the purposes of the government's inquiry was to determine if sabotage brought the disaster

"There are two things that I want to know" he told reporters in Washington

"I want to know if there was any sabotage [illegible] disaster and I want to know the type of material connected with the interior construction of the dirigible

Many of the survivors some of whom jumped from the liner as it fell to earth others who were catapulted to safety in the impact and even some who staggered out of the inferno alive—were in dangerous condition in hospitals near the air station

Capt Max Pruss who was commanding the Hindenburg for the first time was one of those in a critical condition Capt Ernst A Lehmann whom Pruss succeeded and who was on the ship in an advisory capacity also was in a very ... condition

Scores of spectators witnessed the ... tragedy One instant they waved greetings up to passengers smiling in the windows of the observation compartment

Then in a flash a resounding explosion ... the cigar shaped craft a sheet of flame lashed out, and the Hindenburg plummeted almost to earth

Bodies Fly Through Air

They ... objects — bodies — hurtled from the flaming craft On the ground women spectators screamed and covered their eyes ...

Today a few hundred yards from the blackened tangle of wreckage, the dead lay row on row in the ... garage that was hastily transformed into a temporary morgue

And in the hospitals of little neighboring communities were crowded the injured, the burned, passenger and crew alike some of them in dying condition

Still numb was the air station from the impact of disaster which struck so suddenly.

Capt Ernst Lehmann a zeppelin commander in the World war, and commander of the ship on previous voyages, stumbled from the wreck, gravely injured

So was Capt, Max Pruss, the vet-

Possible Causes of Ship Disaster

By The Associated Press

What caused the crash of the Hindenburg?

Capt. Ernst Lehmann, its commander—"I don't know what happened She just went up"

Gill Robb Wilson, New Jersey state aviation director—"Something strange caused that tragedy."

Capt. Frank McCarthy, once commander of the Shenandoah which crashed 12 years ago—"It is more reasonable to assume that a flame from one of the Diesel engines ignited the hydrogen

James C Mars American pioneer in lighter-than-air craft—"Static electricity The hydrogen gas bag would have gathered static in the electrical storm and one of its landing ropes touching the wet ground could complete the circuit."

... Meister, vice president of the American Zeppelin Transport ...—"The rain may have caused a spark of static electricity when the landing ropes were dropped Or there may have been a spark from one of the engines."

Among the few with upward moves were [illegible], with a gain of about [illegible] and National Supply ahead [illegible] at new tops.

Edging forward as much as a point or more at the best were Celanese (at a new 1937 peak), Poor & Co., Texas? N. Y. Omnibus, Libby-Owens, St. Joseph Lead, Skelly Oil, du Pont, New York Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Bethlehem Steel, National Steel, Chrysler, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Allis-Chalmers, Sears Roebuck and Douglas Aircraft.

Somewhat more hesitant were Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power & Light, U. S. Steel, Republic, General Motors, Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, General Electric, Anaconda, Kennecott, General Foods and Lone Star Cement.

Utilities were rather ragged following action of the New York legislature in passing a new tax bill for companies in this line. Financial quarters visioned possible similar steps in other states.

FRIDAY, ... MAY 7, 1937

Ah Yes, The Future.

It isn't a pleasant thing to think about, but probably there will be another depression sometime. Even new dealers who used to predict the new millennium of managed economy, now seem to feel they won't be able to get things running smoothly in time to stop at least one more big depression during the 1940s.

That's why some of the harder-headed politicians in Washington are worrying about expenses—really worrying. The things they learned at their fathers' knees finally are beginning to cut through the mental mists of the new dispensation. "Make hay while the sun shines." "Save up for a rainy day." Such axioms are the essence of centuries of experience.

This is the time when the United States should be getting ready for the next depression—the rainy day. The economic sun is shining, and the treasury should be making hay. Instead, the prospect is that after seven years of continuous deficit operation, next year will be just another one. The national debt is growing, not shrinking.

Congressmen and executives are beginning to wonder what would happen if the government were to enter another depression with a national debt of more than 35 billion dollars. If there's unusual earnestness in their economy talk this year, that explains it.

Trouble.

It is not pleasant to have to think about the Lindbergh case again, but testimony at the trial of Ellis H. Parker and his son, charged with kidnaping and conspiracy, is stirring up dismal memories.

There is something in the nature of some men which draws them to trouble as surely as hungry wolves are attracted to a helpless victim. While others draw close to offer help or at the very least to give assistance if asked for it, some—a few, fortunately—are interested only in trying to advance themselves by the misuse of misery.

The greater the sorrow, the greater the wrong. The Lindbergh case, being a very great sorrow, attracted a prize herd of rascals.

Purge.

New York City being what it is and Broadway being what it is, the city's refusal to renew licenses of 14 burlesque theaters is getting a lot of attention.

It's the same old story, with variations. In the search for more exciting entertainment to attract larger audiences, management pressed its luck too far, and that part of the population which is always sensitive to off-color entertainment rose in arms.

Politicians yielded, which was the safe thing for them to do. As a matter of truth, there aren't any variations to the story at all, with the possible exception of the fact that the burlesque theater has to offer something pretty spicy these days to keep its customers abreast with what goes on some of the high tariff night clubs.

Certainly there has been nothing in reports to indicate that burlesque and whatever they call comparable entertainment in a restaurant are undergoing a purge because of any spirit of self-reform among the customers. When that happens, if ever, it will be something to get excited about.

Neighborhoods.

The house hunting of the world's best known engaged couple is a matter of more than ordinary difficulty.

The Duke of Windsor must do more than make a selection of neighborhoods. He must choose among continents. The possibility that a place in North America might be selected excites this continent.

Therein lies the great difficulty. The duke and Mrs. Simpson evidently want to live their own lives. The duke, especially, wants to enjoy a little of the privacy which he never had as the Prince of Wales and as king. Where will he be able to get it?

He doesn't know. It is possible that while there might be some place on earth where he and the other weary beneficiaries of publicity who would be glad to trade their fame for a chance to move about freely without curious persons crowding in to get a closer look could retire and stare at each other for a change.

Maybe he and Mrs. Simpson and the Lindberghs could form a Privacy corp. and buy an island in the south seas.

Future of The Republican Party

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, [illegible], by The Associated Press)

W[illegible]

[illegible] through the [illegible] two party system.

The real problem is [illegible] constructive [illegible] power, which [illegible] political history at [illegible] funds and public offices to keep itself entrenched for several [illegible] has [illegible] an uprising of voters who care nothing for party as such and a great deal for principle and fundamental democracy.

Men like Senator Borah of Idaho do not favor a change in name of the Republican party. For one thing it would do no good to change the label if the men behind the label were dominated by the same reactionary viewpoints that have been so dominant in Republican national conventions. The new dealers would promptly and rightly say it was the voice of Jacob but the hands of Esau.

Change of Heart

The Republican party does not need to undergo a change of name, but a change of heart. Like the present so-called Democratic party, which at times has professed a deep interest in the welfare of the common man, the Republican first lost the true touch of devotion to the public interest and lost it in the name of political patronage and governmental favors such as now envelope the new deal party and will in due time lead also to defeat.

The Republican party has an extraordinary opportunity. A cross section of the 17,000,000 who voted the Republican ticket last fall might be asked what they really want the Republican party to do. Surely, 17,000,000 cannot have been "economic royalists" or interested in treading on the rights and opportunities of their fellow men. Seventeen million persons constitute an enormous part of the electorate and their cooperation is essential in making the economic system of the country function. If they believe in an independent and uncontrolled judiciary and in a truly democratic system of government, as opposed to a [illegible]

[illegible] of the President [illegible] of experience [illegible] was organized [illegible] new deal. The Republican [illegible] of Maine and Vermont [illegible] new deal speakers headed by [illegible] Roosevelt [illegible] engaged to foster [illegible] voted a total [illegible] Roosevelt's attitude to give [illegible] the [illegible] of government.

The Republican party management, on [illegible] assumed that all of [illegible] voted the Republican [illegible] have any plans [illegible] take into the opposition [illegible] who now feel that they [illegible] a mistake last autumn when they assumed that Mr. Roosevelt was not going to [illegible] the American system of government.

Need for New Party

There is [illegible] need for a new political party in America, one that will repudiate the [illegible] of Republicanism of recent years and the fascism of the new deal, [illegible] but surely developing its [illegible] of German and Italian concepts of an all-powerful state in which the rights of the individual are subordinated, if not gradually extinguished.

Such a new party might carry the name Republican or any other name so long as it was plainly recognized by the masses to be a party truly interested in the average man. Today the new deal is bringing about every month a bigger and bigger cut in the pay envelope of the workers by increasing the cost of living. The decline in "real wages" [illegible] as purchasing power of money is reduced has been noticeable for some time. This is indirectly due to the unbalanced budget, wastefulness in relief, and unwillingness of the present administration to encourage men of business to create the jobs that will absorb the unemployed. Restrictions and legislative experiments have so impaired the functioning of the economic system that the cost of relief still continues high notwithstanding the increase in the total number employed.

There are many persons who voted the new deal ticket last autumn and who do not care about party labels. Many of these people today, rightly or wrongly, consider the Republicans to be indifferent to the true welfare of the masses. If the new party which emerged from the present situation were called Republican, but were fundamentally interested in a program to bring about a stabilized prosperity, and leaders of such a new party arose whose sincerity were established by their action in behalf of truly progressive measures, the opportunity for new deal fascism to be extended through a controlled judiciary, legalized monopolies, and centralized government might be considerably curtailed. For the effectiveness of a democracy depends on a free opposition, free from special interests or group selfishness and interested as Lincoln was in the protection of property and human freedom as an inseparable combination.

What We Pay in Hidden Taxes

AN $18 a week laborer or clerk who owns no property pays $116 a year in hidden taxes, contained in the prices of the goods and services he buys, or 12 cents out of each dollar he earns, according to a detailed 12 months analysis.

The mechanic or minor department head whose $150 a month salary permits the operation of a used automobile pays $229 annually in taxes, even though he owns no other property and is a family man exempt from income taxes, according to the study. This amount represents 12.7 cents per dollar earned.

Based on analysis of the tax and sales records of 290 manufacturers, jobbers and retailers, the study, conducted by [illegible] western National Life Insurance Co., finds that the "invisible" taxes contained in retail food prices average 7.1 per cent; in clothing prices, 8 per cent; in fuel and light bills, 9.5 per cent; in sundries or miscellaneous household items, 10.2 per cent. Records gathered by the company on 2,561 single and multiple family dwellings in 18 cities reveal an average of [illegible] for taxes in each dollar of rent paid by the average tenant family.

"The tax load on used automobile ownership and operation is 20.1 per cent," the report states. Analysis of [illegible] client records reveals that [illegible] the average $150-a-month [illegible] priced at $350 which [illegible] drives such a car 6,000 [illegible] new tire per year, according to the study, his car costs him, including depreciation, $14.50 a month or $174 annually to own and operate, of which $35.52 or 20.1 per cent represents taxes. This figure includes car license and sales taxes on gasoline and oil as well as hidden indirect taxes.

Taxes figuring in the overhead costs of manufactured goods average 8 per cent of wholesale prices to distributors, the investigators found. Shipping costs are 12 per cent taxes; local real estate levies comprise 15 per cent of the total overhead of the average retailer, and amount to six tenths of a cent in the price of a dollar article on the counter.

INVISIBLE but traceable taxes are 6.4 per cent of the retail price of bread, 8.11 of the price of beef, and 18.5 per cent of the price of sugar. The price of a man's suit of clothes contains 10.49 per cent in taxes picked up in its travel from the back of the sheep to the back of its purchaser.

The report points out that the figures given represent only those taxes which can be traced and measured with a reasonable degree of definiteness, and that many small tax elements which could not be isolated and estimated with any certainty were omitted. Therefore the percentage of concealed taxes quoted err on the side of conservatism, the report emphasizes.

Social security taxes, because they are in a sense deposits for future withdrawal, were not included in the computations.

Economy Now Serious Question

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 7—The millennium arrived last Monday. On that day the house of representatives declined to pass a pension bill. Lobbyists, old timers and insiders may not believe it, but the Congressional Record shows the house then refused to consider a bill appropriating $5,000,000 a year more for soldiers, sailors and nurses of the Spanish-American war.

When legislators decline to vote for pension bills, you may be reasonably certain that something is wrong with the world. In this instance, it is a fairly good indication that the appropriators are downright serious about setting President Roosevelt's budget aright.

In fact, those who have joined the house and senate appropriations committees in their corner sessions lately have it on top authority that Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for a $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation would be cut to a flat billion.

A majority of the two committees are agreed on it. Their decision will be made public eventually.

Curtailment

The committeemen also have some bad news in store for Interior Secretary Ickes. The subcommittee of the house appropriations committee has decided to trim his PWA expenditures down to a point approaching abolition. What the subcommittee says usually goes, which means that the Ickes era of WPA spending is probably nearing an end, by congressional edict.

PWA expires June 30. A resolution extending it for two years has been under consideration by the subcommittee. Mr. Ickes has obligated the federal government for expenditures amounting to $282,000,000 during this two-year extension period. In addition he has a $145,000,000 revolving fund, which amounts to a drawing fund, which amounts to a drawing account on the treasury.

The subcommittee has decided to let Mr. Ickes spend his $282,000,000 of obligations, but to cancel his drawing account. His $145,000,000 revolving fund is to be abolished. The money automatically is applied to curtailing the national debt.

Sense

If these things work out, you will have to hand it to congress. The workings of this democracy down the ages have created the general supposition that congress is the irresponsible spending agency and the executive is the sound retrenchment force. Now you have a situation in which the congress, under able and quiet leadership, is taking the budget in hand to do an effective job on it. You have serious-minded legislators bent on a common sense revision of federal expenditures instead of trying to hog all they can from the federal treasury for their local districts.

Papa Wins

What papa said, went. The Farley candidate for the secretaryship of the Federal Communications Commission still is with the Democratic national committee, hoping for a job in the commerce department. The successful candidate for the post was Thomas J. Slowie, secretary to Representative William S. Jacobsen of Iowa. His selection was dictated by the President's son and secretary, James Roosevelt. He was papa's candidate.

DeValera's Plans

Mr. DeValera's new Irish state proposal impressed authorities here far less than the headline writers. As they see it here, even if Mr. DeValera can achieve his goal, he does not intend to remove himself from the British commonwealth. He wants a status like that of Canada and Australia. The big guns of the British Royal Navy are too comforting to be abandoned.

Court

The latest check indicates Mr. Roosevelt cannot get six justices, no matter what he does. Even the house is against this. Many think the best he can get there is two justices and a constitutional amendment providing automatic retirement of judges over 70 or 75. The President, however, has given no indication that he would compromise even to the extent of half an eyelash of the sixth justice.

The truth is most legislators wish the court packing plan had never been offered. They would like to forget about it. They feel that it is only a personal issue with the President, and less important than he seems to believe it. Rumor also persists at the capitol that two court members intend to resign after the present term ends. If that should develop, then all the hard feeling engendered by the court fight would have accomplished minus zero.

Outlet

The Demagog club is growing rapidly. Legislators find it an excellent outlet for objections they do not care to voice in public. It has become so well organized now that groups of members are being assigned subjects upon which to debate. One group has the power trust, which is always a superbly denounceable subject. To another group is assigned war, etc.

One member strolled in the other day and spent twenty minutes denouncing a bill. After having aired these conscientious objections from his chest, he announced he would go out and vote for the bill—and he did.

Another member pointed out that the lobbyists of a veterans' organization were sitting in the gallery to keep a check on the votes of members. He denounced them in forthright terms, but decided that, after all, perhaps he had better keep on the right side of the veterans. Said he:

"I will show the head of that organization that I can be as demagogic as he can."

He proved his point.

Banjo Legs and Mmrs.

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 7—Thoughts while strolling: Anagram for Bill Robinson or rather his nickname Bojangles: Banjo Legs. Good idea of that Arizona editor: He wants to popularize Mmrs. for Mr. and Mrs. in society reporting. When a banquet begins to droop, they call on Bugs Baer. Et voila!

Dick Powell might be young Ted Roosevelt slightly shrunk. Howard Hughes could pass for Colonel Lindbergh in a dim light. And any Sealyham full face is a dead ringer for Ford Madox Ford. Never knew a man named Fuller who wasn't a cut-up. The Illustrators' Grand Old Man: Howard Chandler Christy.

A San Francisco drama critic sums up Elaine Barry with: "She looks like Salome and acts like salami." Nobody can appear so flutteringly breathless as Ilka Chase. The town's richest producer—and one of the most successful: Dwight Deere Wiman. His latest is a hit.

One tie-buster name: Renato Colladi of El Chico. Wherever you see Helen Worden, the society scribbler, you see her mother. The most constant of the mother boys is Clifton Webb. Fifth avenue's never failing summer touch: The window boxes of flowers in the Helen Gould mansion.

Rhyme: Still a glib talker is Mayor Walker. Nearest to the late Bert Williams' sense of Negro comedy—that of Eddie Green. Not many actors have made the years pay such youthful dividends as Bert Lytell. He could still be the flanneled lieutenant juvenile in the old musical comedys.

Max Miller, in sending in a copy of his "Mexico Around Me," autographs it thus: "And maybe one of these days you, too, by working hard, may have this chance to go abroad."

Perhaps it is the E. Phillips Oppenheim influence, but few types interest me more than the international crook. I mean the suave, monocled and bespatted cosmopolite who speaks many languages and is at home in any gathering. I have met two at various times. One on an ocean liner who wore tweeds and full dress with equal je ne sais quoi. He met anyone on the boat he cared to meet without appearing officious. He was greeted at Southampton by two men from Scotland Yard who had been tipped by wireless. And when he went down the gangplank in his first step toward entering Old Bailey he had an air—the dash that goes with worldliness. I read in a London paper he was an old offender and got an eight-year sentence.

The other roaming rascal was pointed out to me in the little room at Ciro's in Paris by Michael Arlen, who has used his counterpart in a short story in a British magazine. He was in immaculate white-tied elegance, dining alone with an alert, proud and piercing look. Every gesture bespoke culture and breeding. Several weeks later I saw him sauntering along a promenade at Cannes at the cocktail hour. And when he sat down at a terrasse table I occupied one adjoining and tried to engage him in conversation by some casual observation about the weather. He replied with a grimace of a smile that wavered between politeness and haughtiness and then shook out his folded Paris Herald to indicate he cared for no further talk. In a life of many rebukes I do not believe I ever felt quite so thoroughly squelched.

BLANKS ARRIVE FOR FARM TRUCK PLATES

New Tags May Be Applied for at Reduced Rates at Auto Club

Savings under the state legislature's recent reduction of license plate costs for trucks used exclusively in farm operations became available to Marion county farmers today when a supply of blank forms to make the reduction effective was received by M E Baldwin deputy registrar of motor vehicles at the Marion Auto club office.

The act provides a minimum charge of $10 for a farm truck but effects savings up to 40 per cent as compared with the license fees for trucks used in commercial hauling Mr Baldwin said. Many farm truck owners have delayed purchasing licenses to take advantage of the saving he said.

The farm truck rate is 50 cents a hundred pounds (weight of the truck fully equipped but not loaded) for the first 3,000 pounds or less with a $10 minimum charge, 70 cents a hundred between 3,000 and 4,000 pounds, 90 cents a hundred between 4,000 and 6,000 pounds, $1 a hundred between 6,000 and 10,000 pounds, and $2.50 a hundred over 10,000 pounds.

Mr Baldwin pointed out a [illegible]000 pound truck under the new rate will require a $10 license as compared with $11 under the regular commercial rate. On a 3,000-pound truck the farm license is $15 a savings of $10; 4,000 pound farm truck $2[illegible] a saving of $18; [illegible]000 pound truck $31 a savings of $26.50; [illegible]000 pound truck $40 a savings of $3[illegible]; 7,000-pound truck $60 a savings of $3[illegible].

Mr Baldwin emphasized the reduction is available only to persons who use their trucks exclusively in farm operations and does not apply to trucks for which farmers must continue to pay the regular commercial rate beginning with a charge of 40 cents a hundred pounds for the first 2,000 pounds.

GERMANS TO SEND BOARD OF INQUIRY

ing a report from the inquiry board.

Some at Frankfort On Main the home of zeppelin home [illegible] stood beneath half staffed flags to wonder of sabotage.

What else could it be? they asked.

But there was no official expression of such suspicion.

Eckener spoke too of veiled and anonymous threats of trouble if the Hindenburg landed in America this year but said they were the work of cranks.

Eckener will be on the commission of inquiry which is expected to hasten by plane to Cherbourg thence on the Europa to the United States.

So great was Germany's wonder that our pride had been [illegible] fallen with a heavy loss of life that few were willing to hazard a definite guess as to the cause. There was some speculation that a static spark in the dirigible metal structure had ignited the gas.

As early as Nov 10 193[illegible] Dr Eckener gave The Associated Press an interview in which he expressed the belief that the British R 101 accident proved the necessity of helium gas. The United States has a virtual monopoly on that gas.

While an official communique in the government controlled press proclaimed there must be no flagging in the progress of Germany's lighter than air construction and transportation, Chancellor Hitler at his mountain retreat near Berchtesgaden received the news in stunned silence.

We have received several anonymous warnings of possible efforts to damage the ship the doctor added. One mysterious warning told us not to attempt landing in America. Every precaution was taken out [illegible] national conclusion was that the veiled threat came from cranks.

Meanwhile a rigid censorship was imposed on German press accounts of the disaster.

The veteran Eckener who has been on an automobile tour in Austria told newspapermen:

I always insisted airships are safe only with helium ever since the English dirigible crashed in France five years ago.

He turned to the future.

I will go ahead with construction of dirigibles and send them around the globe.

The new German zeppelin (sister ship of the Hindenburg now under construction) will be filled with helium if we can get it from America he declared.

HINDENBURG'S CHEF JUMPS OUT SAFELY

Horrors of Disaster Recounted by Survivors Recovering from Shock in Hospital

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST N J May 7—Alfred Grozinzer 20 year old chef on the Hindenburg shut his eyes and leaped before the great ship sank to earth a blazing wreck

I jumped he kept repeating dazedly in German when he was placed on a hospital bed I jumped and I'm alive

He was only slightly injured but was suffering from shock The man in the next bed George Grant 63 of London badly bruised and his leg broken managed to grin I'm alive too Thank God

Most of the passengers and crew who escaped death in the disaster were too stunned to talk Some lay silent for hours

It was a terrible sight said I C Hazard of Pinewald N J son of a physician who rushed with nurses to the scene of the wreck

It looked as if a lot of them burned right up I don't know how anybody got out

It was good fortune that some were blown right out the windows

I saw one passenger walking around the field afterward in a trance

Their clothes were torn and burned so much that what was left had to be cut off

The first concern of those who escaped was the worry of their families

Hans Hugo Vell a member of the crew dispatched from his hospital bed a jubilant cable I'm well to his wife and child in Prussia

Philip Mangone of New York who was not seriously injured received telegrams from his friends congratulations on your miraculous escape

A crowd milled all night in the Lakehurst hangar as the names of dead and survivors went up on a bulletin board

Lights from a revolving beam over the hangar swung at intervals over clusters of grave faced men and state troopers

Occasionally there was the wail of an ambulance siren and the stars shone down in the mild spring night over the wreck of the ill fated sky queen

NEW TAX REFUNDS MAY BOOST DEFICIT

Bill Suggests Repaying of Illegal AAA Levies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 7—Officials interested in budget balancing saw new difficulties today in the possibility of increased refunds of taxes collected under the unconstitutional agricultural adjustment act

They said a bill urged by Rep Cullen Democrat of New York might add millions more than anticipated to the government's expenses for paying back illegal AAA levies against processors

The deadline for taxpayers to make claims is June 30 Treasury experts have estimated that less than 10 per cent of the billion dollars collected under the farm law would be refunded

Cullen asked a hearing however for a bill to extend the time for filing claims until Dec 31

If the government loses a suit now awaiting decision by the supreme court the taxpayers are given extra time to demand refunds treasury officials said the amount of refunds would be increased

U. S. AND GERMANY PROBE SHIP BLAST

ag as Lehmann's successor in command Lehmann made the trip in advisory capacity

Some Trapped in Stern

Others were trapped in the blazing stern their screams audible to the comparatively small crowd gathered to witness what they considered a routine arrival of the big zeppelin

What happened to the airship that had made so many safe crossings to this and other countries remained a mystery

Carl Weigand skipper of the S S Deutschland who rushed to Paul Kimball hospital at Lakewood to see Capt Lehmann quoted him as saying

I don't know what happened She just went up

Something strange caused that tragedy said Gill Robb Wilson state aviation director announcing immediate federal and state investigations There was an explosion he said in No 2 gas cell stern

In all my 21 years of flying experience I have seen crackups explosions flaming airplanes he said but nothing measures up to the explosion of the Hindenburg

Fred D Fagg director of the federal bureau of air commerce arrived from New York and said an inquiry would be held today or tomorrow

Spectators Kept Away

The warped wreckage remained where it fell pending inspection by a court of inquiry The naval reservation was closed to all spectators and curiosity seekers

The 800-foot long swastika emblazoned ship graceful despite her bulk sailed into her American port in a rain storm more than 12 hours late because of headwinds which cut down speed over the Atlantic

Unhurried despite a planned quick turn about with a record list of passengers many of them bound for the English coronation the ship nosed up toward the mooring mast

Two lines went down at 6 0 p m eastern standard time Passengers spotting relatives and greeters on the field 200 feet below waved gaily

Three minutes later—explosion

Stories of the tragedy were all the same

A blinding flash said Herbert O'Laughlin of Chicago a survivor

Blast Sounds Like Gunfire

A noise that sounded like bullets coming out of the gondolas said Robert Seelig a photographer on the ground I saw the ship just sink down and the flames go through it

The disaster writing a fiery finis to the Hindenburg's 135 000 miles of safe transit across the Atlantic was the first major wreck to involve a lighter than air ship carrying paying passengers

All other crashes in the 8 years since Count Zeppelin began the use of dirigibles involved military or naval craft

It was America's fourth major tragedy of its kind the other three being the naval dirigible Shenandoah which broke in two during a storm over Ohio Sept 3 1925 with a death toll of 14 the destruction of the Akron off Barnegat Inlet April 4 1933 with 73 killed and the plunge of the Macon into the sea off the California coast early in 1935

Curious humanity in long unending streams of thousands poured into Lakehurst throughout the night and early morning eager to gaze in awe on the scene

Germans Hold Parley

In the zeppelin company's office beside the hangar a score of Germans grim and nervous conversed gutturally An officer with his head swathed in crimson stained bandages roared thick German into a telephone

Graphic descriptions of the disaster came from eyewitnesses

All was serene on the ground and ship when suddenly flames burst from the zeppelin's tail said Dr Carl A Cesswern of Matawan Her rear half puffed up and burned then the front bulged out and burst into flames In less than a minute she was on the ground flopping like a deflated parachute

As the flaming mass plunged downward there rose a cry to the ground crew Run for your live

The first bewilderment gone they ran back to the blazing still exploding wreckage

The navy boys grimly dove into the flames like dogs after rabbits said Gill Robb Wilson state aviation director in lauding their rescue work

All Seek Escape

The passengers and crew those that were not trapped in the blazing hulk sought escape

Mrs Herman Doehner of Mexico City told Point Pleasant hospital [illegible] she and two sons were in the dining room when the first blast occurred She threw her sons out the window and then as the ship six feet off the ground [illegible] herself A daughter died [illegible] and her husband was not reported in the early survival lists

I landed on my stomach and crawled 30 or 40 yards to escape the flames Philip Mangone of New York said in Paul Kimball hospital

Anxious and tear faced relatives of [illegible] aboard the ship streamed into Lakehurst [illegible] searched hospitals [illegible] dead

Most of the bodies lay for a time in a little garage in the rear of the naval hospital

Bodies Taken Into Hangar

Later some were brought into the mammoth hangar—where the ship that had carried them to their death [illegible] had lain overnight

The first [illegible] from various sources [illegible] on the cause of the disaster such as had stricken down this lighter than air craft but officials [illegible] the scene to [illegible] the inquiry said it was too early [illegible] to fix the reason

F W [illegible] Meister vice president of the American Zeppelin Transport Company general U S Agents for the German Zeppelin Transport [illegible] the Hindenburg's owners said the rain may have created a spark of static electricity when the landing ropes were dropped touching off the highly explosive hydrogen

He said the tragedy may have resulted also from a spark from one of the engines Some of the hydrogen which the ship had been valving preparatory to landing might have gathered in a pocket under the tail surfaces he said and detonated from the spark

76 Hours To Cross

The Hindenburg which had put out from her home base Frankfort on Main Germany 76 hours before had cruised majestically over New England and the skyscrapers of New York and headed to Lakehurst for an evening landing Aboard were 30 passengers and a crew of 61

Because of the strong winds that sweep the broad plain during the day the ship always had landed at dusk or at dawn Headwinds met on its voyage prevented the anticipated 6 a m landing

The big ship was sighted at Lakehurst soon after three o'clock but hovered over the pines looking much like a big cigar awaiting favorable landing conditions and the clearing of a light rain and electrical storm

The ground crew of 90 navy men and 110 civilians in charge of Lieu R K Tyler former flight officer who flew in lighter than air craft during the World war moved toward the mooring mast—seven feet lower than last year's to permit greater control of the craft as she was wound in by the nose

Nose Lines Dropped Down

The motors droned as she approached the mast Two nose lines were dropped through trap doors The lines were attached and the huge silver bag gleamed despite fast falling darkness A light rain was still falling

Lights gleamed from the gondolas

Then came a crackling roar and the few hundred spectators — a mere handful compared to the thousands who watched the Hindenburg end her maiden North Atlantic flight a year ago this month—gasped

The detonation tore the ship in half She burned as she crumpled By the time she settled the 200 feet to earth she was a blazing tomb

At first it was feared that all aboard had perished

Then a steward and two cabin boys appeared out of the wreckage stunned

Rescuers took heart Perhaps there was hope for more

A man crawled out of a gondola his clothes burned off A woman leaped from a window More came stumbling out

Ground Crew Finds Bodies

The ground crew found the dead as well as the living

It was the job of the first watch as F Z Matthews first class machinist's mate related to haul the dead ones out of the wreck

Have you ever seen a guy burned so badly that he shouldn't be walking but he does he said We found a sailor who knew if there were any burnt clothes on him he would be stripped taking his flesh with him so he had taken off everything except his underclothing

We saw him wandering around all black from the hands to the elbows and from the feet to the knees and still he walked He had no more than an inch of skin all over him

The ground crew worked until midnight hunting for bodies but finally called off the search until daybreak

Officials Launch Inquiry

Officials opened their inquiry into the cause of the crash while the still warm ruins held the bodies of disaster victims

Three agencies planned to question those survivors able to talk In Washington Sen Copeland Democrat of New York chairman of the senate commerce committee proposed a sweeping study of the crash

Navy officials at the Lakehurst station said a board of inquiry would sit today Fred D Fagg newly appointed director of the bureau of air commerce reached the scene last night

His first words were that an official inquiry would start today or tomorrow

A representative of the American Zeppelin Corp also said a thorough investigation would be launched immediately

The study Copeland suggested would delve into the comparative construction of the Hindenburg and the two ill fated American dirigibles the Macon and the Akron

Such an investigation would revive congressional discussion of whether the United States government should foster lighter than air transportation long a moot question in government circles

In addition each classroom will have a display to indicate the type of work done during the year, and there will be industrial and household arts displays in the front entrance hall. Each visitor will be asked to register and will receive a card of admission which must be presented at the classroom door before entrance is gained. A member of the school boy patrol will be on duty at each door to admit only those with cards.

The library group will have a display and there will be other displays by the hobby clubs and probably the art classes. An exhibit will be made of office records, showing the purpose of each. The Parent-Teacher association will conduct a candy sale.

During each study hall period a [illegible] designated by the teacher will give a talk describing the work of the [illegible] how much time at school is allotted to study for each grade, how much time the average pupil should spend on lessons outside school if the right use is made of time in school and will explain library permits and general school regulations. "Honey Boy" At 21 Joins Ranks of Cat Immortals

Marion Family's Pet Since 1916 Was Born in Chicago Railway Station.

By HALLIE HOUCK

"HONEY BOY," a cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Brown of 450 West Columbia street, is 21 years old and rightly one of the famous felines of the country.

Lots of Marion people have reached the age of 21, but there is no record of any having scored 125, which is the human age corresponding to the cat's 21.

Aged "Honey Boy" will have been in the Browns' possession 21 years on June 15 and he was at least five months of age when they took him, a fluffy Chicago-born kitten.

Seneca Falls, N. Y., has "Tommy," a pet of Dr. William L. Clark, and 300 townspeople turned out for the 1936 celebration on the cat's twenty-second anniversary. "Pussy-Kitty" is a 22-year-old Columbus wonder owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dean C. Throckmorton. Both cats have been given wide newspaper publicity.

"HONEY BOY"

"Most Unusual"

"Most unusual, most unusual," was a Marion veterinarian's ejaculation when told of "Honey Boy." Cats average nine years of age, he said.

Humans are sometimes spoken of as living on "borrowed time" and it must be that "Honey Boy" is living the last of the nine lives accredited to cats.

"Honey Boy's" sleek, thick black coat has become a thin, mahogany shadow of its former glory and for the last four years he's been without teeth but there's life in the old boy yet!

The Star photographer and Mrs. Brown had all they could manage in getting a picture with a special delicacy of fish as bait.

"Honey Boy" goes wild when strangers are around and dashes and leaps with an agility no centenarian ever dreamed. A prima donna could not have put on a better temperamental fireworks, as green eyes glinted and claws were bared.

"Honey Boy" lives on a diet of finely cut liver almost exclusively. Milk he cannot abide with any good grace. Two meals a day are the limit, although on some days Mrs. Brown can coax him into a nibble at a third.

In his prime the huge black cat, just plain cat with no highbrow lineage as far as his owners know, weighed 14 pounds. Age, loss of teeth and resulting indigestion have reduced him to not more than 10 pounds, but 10 pounds of dynamite when aroused.

Jealous of Children

Jealousy is one of "Honey Boy's" chief failings. His fear of being supplanted in the family affections by the Browns' two small grandchildren, Harold and Jackie Greer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Greer of 471 West Columbia street, is painful to watch.

It was on June 15, 1916,—before this country entered the World war—that Mr. Brown came home with a five-month-old kitten in his coat pocket. Mr. Brown, an Erie railroad baggageman, was one of several men who provided homes for kittens, being ousted from the basement of the Dearborn station in Chicago. For the next 12 years "Honey Boy" lived in Huntington, Ind., and came on to Marion in January of 1928 when the family moved here.

"Honey Boy" still likes to get out-of-doors and every morning if some one opens the door he pushes the screen door open and makes his own exit. In summer time he has a way of working at the bottom of the door until he can swing it open and reenter by himself.

The long play periods with the family are over for the venerable cat, but once in a while even yet he begins "feeling his oats" and engages in a bit of frivolity that is more amusing to indulgent onlookers than were the kittenish antics of years ago.

"He's one of the family," the Browns say, and every consideration is given his comfort. Watching the Browns with their "Honey Boy" warns that there's going to be an empty spot in their hearts when he finally gives up his ninth life and goes to join his ancestors of the Dearborn station cellar.

Weighing less than half as much as the usual sled, a duralumin dog sled with stainless steel runners has been invented that can carry loads of more than a ton.

Tract One: Being a part of Lot number three hundred thirty-seven [illegible] Sloan's Second Addition, beginning at a point in the west line of said lot forty-five (45) feet south of the northwest corner thereof, thence south on said west line one hundred thirty-five (135) feet; thence east parallel with the north line of said lot to the west line of Blaine Avenue; thence north on the west line of Blaine Avenue one hundred thirty-five (135) feet; thence west to the place of beginning.

Tract Two: Being a part of Lot number three hundred thirty-eight [illegible] Sloan's Second Addition to the city of Marion, Ohio, beginning at a point in the east line of said lot forty-five (45) feet south of the northeast corner thereof, thence south on said east line one hundred thirty-five (135) feet; thence west parallel with the north line of said lot one hundred forty-eight and one-half (148½) feet to the alley; thence north on the east line of the alley aforesaid, one hundred thirty-five (135) feet; thence east, parallel with the north line of said lot, one hundred forty-eight and one-half (148½) feet to the place of beginning.

The prayer of said petition is for the partition of said real estate and for other suitable relief. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on the 5th day of June, 1937, or judgment will be taken against them.

"ELEPHANT BOY" IS HIT ON DOUBLE BILL OFFERED AT PALACE

When something as unusual as "Elephant Boy" comes to Marion, everyone with an appetite for the rare in film entertainment should exert every effort to see it. The picture, made in India by Robert Flaherty and an Alexander Korda film, is at the Palace today and Saturday on a bill with a first-rate Wallace Beery picture, "Good Old Soak."

Beery has a tailor-made role as the shiftless husband and father who proves himself a man in a crisis, and the laughs are many and hearty—interspersed with bits of throat-tightening that make it an above-the average picture.

But it's "Elephant Boy," a 77-minute adaption of Rudyard Kipling's "Toomai of the Elephants," that is the treat. It will be shown tonight at 8:55 and Saturday at 1:15, 4:15, 7:05 and 10.

Boy Shows Talent

Nothing more delightful has lighted the Palace screen than the intelligent eyes, the bright smile, the lithe grace of handsome little Sabu, who plays the title role. A 12-year-old orphan whose father, before his death was in the employ of the Maharajah of Mysore, province where the film company was granted rights to film the story, Sabu was chosen from 11 candidates for the role and was taken to Flaherty from the Malabar coast, as far south as Cochin.

The climax of the picture, in which "Toomai" with an ambition to be a mighty hunter of elephants as was his father, comes when the boy leads the English hunters and native beaters to a herd of 80 wild elephants—it looks like hundreds to film goers and circus fans who haven't ever seen more than two dozen pachyderms together at one time. The capture as it is filmed was, incidentally, the largest of its kind in the history of the Mysore district, and one of the elephants proved to be the largest tusker ever captured.

Elephant Helps Boy

"Toomai's" father is killed by a tiger on the hunting expedition and the boy is to be sent home. Kala Nag, his father's elephant, one of the kindest, wisest elephants in the world, mourning his master and hating a cruel new mahout, [illegible] "Toomai" [illegible] believes that Kala Nag is to be shot, he and the elephant steal away in the night and it is then that "Toomai" finds the huge herd. The English head of the hunting expedition and his beaters, searching for the lad, find him and then the elephants. The picture ends with "Toomai" acknowledged a hunter, but with his happiness are mingled tears of grief for his father.

The picture has beautiful photography, shows the painstaking care of [illegible] filming, and it is highly recommended.

The Beery supporting cast includes Lynne Carver, Janet Beecher, Betty Furness, [illegible] Linden, Una Merkle, Judith Barrett, Robert McWade and Ted Healy. A newsreel completes the bill, which is longer than [illegible] but worth twice the admission [illegible]

GALION POLICE NAB TRUANT AKRON BOYS

Special to The Star

GALION, May 7—Robert Powell, 11, and Dick Green 9, both pupils of [illegible] school, Akron, are probably back in school now after starting out Tuesday in company with $1 on a trip through Ohio.

The boys were arrested Wednesday evening by Police Chief Frank Cook while they were studying a road map of Ohio. The boys had 15 cents left when Chief Cook found them, and they had decided to attend a local movie with this amount. They had little concern as to their plans after the movie, but had planned to continue their trip. The parents were immediately notified, and one of the parents arrived in Galion Thursday to take the boys home.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Malnutrition.

Recently I read a new publication dealing with diseases of childhood. Some of the facts set forth in this book are indeed startling. It described the disease about which I want to tell you today. I refer to "marasmus."

This is a strange malady, confined to children and caused by a disturbance in the nourishment of the youngsters. Formerly little of importance was known about this disease, and it was generally regarded as incurable. I am glad to say, however, it is no longer considered to be hopeless.

In most instances marasmus can be traced to faulty feeding. Occasionally, it may follow a diet lacking in one or more elements absolutely essential to proper growth and development. What makes the problem even more difficult sometimes is that no deficiency in the diet can be determined. In those cases it may well be that the disease is due to a congenital defect of some sort, or possibly to a chronic infection. It may occur as a result of persistent or chronic diarrhea, diseased tonsils or nasal sinuses, or some other localized infection.

The children of the rich and poor alike suffer from it. Those who have marasmus are below par mentally as well as physically. The slowness of mental development is a result of the poor nutrition.

The victim of this disturbance makes a pitiful sight. He looks like an old man, the loose skin hanging in folds over the bones of the face and body. The poor child is skinny and markedly underweight. Usually the temperature is below normal and the pulse is slow, conditions [illegible] from the [illegible] of [illegible]

Unless emergency measures [illegible] are taken the child is in danger of some serious complication [illegible] disease, pneumonia or some other dangerous disorder may follow.

Everything must be done to determine the underlying defect. The diet should be carefully supervised. It must contain all the essential [illegible]. But since the [illegible] cannot handle certain foods, it is important that the diet be a simple one.

It is wise to use [illegible] to protect [illegible] Your doctor will tell you [illegible] the necessary vitamins [illegible] frequent changes [illegible] juice and [illegible] are strongly recommended.

In a severe case of marasmus it is best, if possible, that the child be taken to a hospital. Certain tests are needed and they can be made at home only with great difficulty. Energetic treatment is required because that will hasten prompt recovery.

Mystery Wrestler Set To Make Debut Here Monday

[illegible] Oklahoma's [illegible] holder of the [illegible] association's [illegible] crown, is billed [illegible] Monday night [illegible] Jimmie Lott of [illegible]. The scrap will [illegible] of 90 minutes [illegible] deciding the [illegible] and feature bout [illegible] time limit, an [illegible] booked as [illegible] make his bow [illegible].

[illegible] is a light heavy- [illegible] the scales [illegible] mark. His op- [illegible] Cecil McGill, the [illegible] from Long Beach [illegible] will be held at [illegible] the Marion Steam [illegible] and will get [illegible] a 20-minute pre- [illegible] o'clock.

[illegible] has been here but [illegible] his title early [illegible] Bobby Chick, has [illegible] among Mar- [illegible] he lost the crown [illegible] when he came here [illegible] several occasions, [illegible] without the title [illegible] turned out to be a [illegible] veteran who can give [illegible] large quantities. [illegible] his visits here [illegible] defending the light [illegible] but along with [illegible] has also done [illegible] ring caution he [illegible] played. Jimmie Lott, [illegible] expected to prove a [illegible] for the ex-champ. [illegible] the steel town of [illegible] Ala. Lott has ap- [illegible] on several occasions [illegible] recent months.

[illegible] here, Lott is an [illegible] grappler and apparently [illegible] care of himself in any [illegible] fans who have seen him [illegible] only one major fault [illegible] attacks. Lott frequently, [illegible] falls back on [illegible] work to gain an ad- [illegible] an opponent. He [illegible] within bounds but [illegible] known to resort to numerous mean tricks to gain a victory.

The carrot-topped Californian, Cecil McGill, needs little introduction to fans in Marion. He has been seen in the Show ring often and followers of the mat sport have come to like his aggressive and clever style of wrestling. With his long, lanky frame McGill is a picture of ease and coolness as he works on an opponent. Making good use of his long underpinnings, the Californian resorts to many leg and scissors holds.

Little can be said for Mystery Mike. Where he comes from or who he really is remains a secret. Advance reports on his activity in other cities against light heavyweights indicate that fans here will be treated to plenty of action when he takes the corner opposite McGill. Mystery Mike will be on trial so far as Marion fans are concerned. His scrap with McGill will determine just how good he is and help no little in selecting future opponents for him.

BETTING SATURDAY MAY HIT $1,500,000; WINNER GETS $50,000

War Admiral Favorite at Odds Close to 9 to 5; Race at 5:45 P. M.

BY ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7—While thousands of turf followers from all parts of America mingled with the "hardboots" of old Kentucky today on gaily decorated streets, where only a few months ago flood water stood several feet deep, nearly a score of the nation's equine royalty awaited the coronation of the Kentucky Derby winner as king of the three-year olds.

Around 5:45 p. m. (Marion time) tomorrow starter Bill Hamilton will release the barrier, yell "come on" and the 63rd running of the country's most famous horse race will be under way to the accompaniment of the cheers of 65,000 spectators.

A little more than two minutes later, at the end of the mile and a quarter which the winner will have a horseshoe of roses draped around his neck, the fortunate owner will collect upwards of $50,000 and the backers of the victorious horse will rush to the mutuel windows to collect on their investment.

The historic race marks the return of the Derby to all the glamour and much of the prosperity it enjoyed in pre-depression years. The value of the race has been restored to $50,000 after being twice sliced in depression years to $30,000. More than $1,500,000 may pass through the mutuel windows for the greatest play since the days of Reigh Count and Gallant Fox.

Officials have prepared for a record attendance by increasing the seating capacity to 30,000. At least seven horses rated consideration.

The consensus of the experts is that the winner will come from either Mrs. Ethel V. Mars Milky Way stable or Samuel Riddle's barn, with the latter sending out the favorite in the diminutive War Admiral, a son of Man O' War. He is expected to go to the post at odds close to 9 to 5.

In meeting Mrs. Mars' Reaping Reward and Military, however, War Admiral will be asked to match strides with one horse seasoned by winter racing and another that showed his class as a two-year old.

While War Admiral and Mrs. Mars' entry are expected to battle it out in the mutuels, there should be plenty of support for Dellor, the Wheatley stable's melodist, Heelfly from the Waggoner Brothers' Texas-owned Three D's stable, Maxwell Howard's Sceneshifter, ace of the pair trained by Earl Sande, and J. H. Louchheim's Pompoon, the erstwhile favorite.

Final Plans for 1937 Before Softball Commission Tonight

Softball commission members will meet at 7 o'clock tonight to work on detailed plans for the 1937 season which is set to open a week from Monday. Shortage in teams filing blanks for entrance in the Friday night loop points to the possibility that only three leagues will be in action this season.

All of the leagues will be playing twilight games, and according to present plans each club will meet each other entry twice during the season. Sunday school leagues No. 1 and 2, which will be in action Monday and Tuesday nights, are practically set up to start the season on a six-team basis.

Unless other clubs clamor for entrance to the Sunday school loops, the set-up will be completed for a six-team affair. This of course, would mean that three games would be on tap each Monday. However, eight teams probably will compete in the Industrial league which is tentatively set to play its games on Thursday night.

WEATHERLY'S HOMER WITH MATE ON BASE GIVES TRIBE VICTORY

Grissom's 5-Hit Hurling Aids Cincinnati; Cubs Surge Upward.

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For a bunch of [illegible] cripples, those Chicago Cubs are showing a lot of health.

In spite of a casualty list, the Cubs are travelling at the fastest pace in the National League. They climbed from sixth place to a tie for third in the last week and are showing no signs of letting up.

Their surge wound up in third place yesterday when [illegible] with the Phillies to five innings with the Cubs winning 1-0 for their sixth straight triumph. Bill Lee, going the route for the second time in the week, muffled the Phils with one long hit.

The big change in standings for the day came in the American League where the Tigers topped the Yankees 12-3 and the Red Sox nosed out the Browns 2-1 to throw the lead into a three-way tie. Hank Greenberg with a homer, double and triple led the [illegible] against Yankee pitching at Detroit while Footsie Marcum hurled his third straight win to give Boston its win and a share in the loop lead.

For the first time this season, the Cincinnati Reds showed a win [illegible] a streak of two by blanking the Giants 4-0 behind Lefty Lee Grissom's five-hit hurling. The Dodgers stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates streak at four straight by a seven-run rally in the fifth inning for a 9-5 victory. The Cards and Boston Bees were rained out.

Connie Mack's sparkling Athletics topped the Chicago White Sox for the second day running, 3-1. Roy Weatherly's homer with a mate on base in the eighth gave the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 win over the Washington Senators.

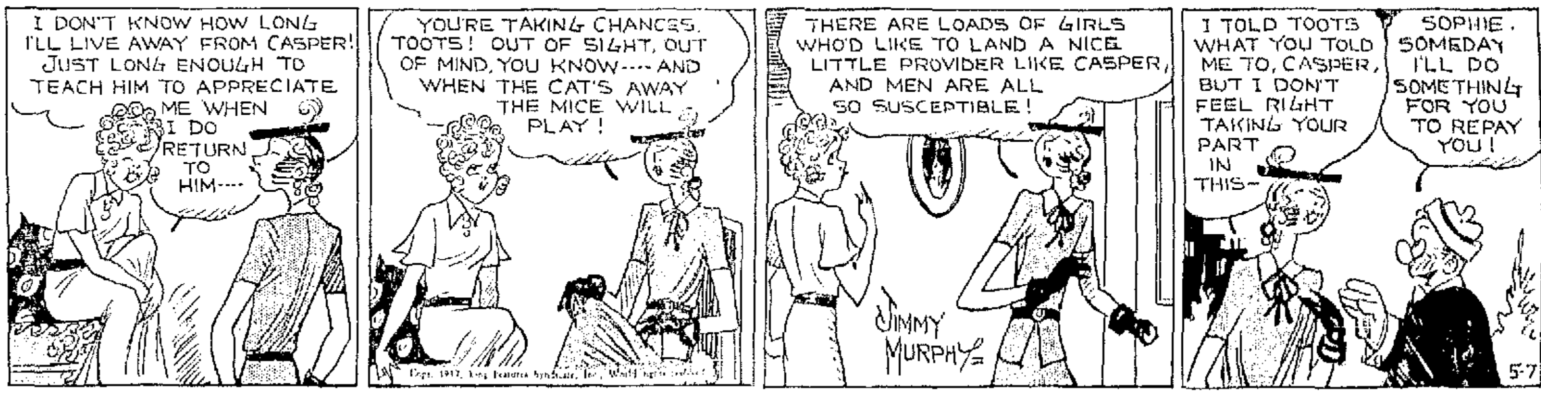
Toots and Casper

By Jimmie Murphy



I DON'T KNOW HOW LONG I'LL LIVE AWAY FROM CASPER! JUST LONG ENOUGH TO TEACH HIM TO APPRECIATE ME WHEN I DO RETURN TO HIM----
YOU'RE TAKING CHANCES, TOOTS! OUT OF SIGHT, OUT OF MIND, YOU KNOW---- AND WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY THE MICE WILL PLAY!
THERE ARE LOADS OF GIRLS WHO'D LIKE TO LAND A NICE LITTLE PROVIDER LIKE CASPER, AND MEN ARE ALL SO SUSCEPTIBLE!
JIMMY MURPHY
I TOLD TOOTS WHAT YOU TOLD ME TO, CASPER, BUT I DON'T FEEL RIGHT TAKING YOUR PART IN THIS—SOPHIE, SOMEDAY I'LL DO SOMETHING FOR YOU TO REPAY YOU!
